SPORTS THE BASEBALL

Honolulu and other island fans are by no means disappointed with their team's showing, on the whole, in competition with the champions from the mainland, though the Sunday game was not up to the expectations raised by Saturday's performance. It is remembered that the visitors are a remarkably strong collection, and Honolulu takes credit for "holding them down" as well as has been done. Saturday's game is generally regarded as the best seen here.

The Mainlanders appeared to show considerable superiority all the time in running and stealing bases. The way they managed to "slide" was remarkable, and greatly helped them in the result. As a pitcher, Reuter made a splendid record in the first game, in the second Barney Joy showed up to poorer advantage, possibly on account of not having a catcher upon whom he could rely. Cunha had not been practicing or training, and could not be expected to hold down such a position as catcher. Hence Joy was unable to "let himself out," and pitched an off game, and hence there was very easy stealing of bases,—it didn't need a passed ball, for Sonny couldn't catch the ball and return it to second in time to get a man out even when there was no fumble. As a batter, however, Sonny did well, though he would have been a dangerous obstacle on bases if there had been some striking when he was on first, for the runner behind him would have had to slow down to Sonny's speed.

In batting Honolulu also "fell down" a bit yesterday. Some of the local players showed nervousness and Pitcher Burns held continuously to championship form.

Long before the time set for the opening game between the Fisher All Stars and the All Hawaii team Saturday afternoon, the trolley cars and the streets were crowded with men women and children, all trying to get to the league grounds. The crowd outside the Hotel Baths was waiting for the teams to appear, the band under Berger's command was lined up ready to escort the players to their special car. Just a few minutes after two, Berger gave the signal for the music to start and the little regiment of ball players started on their triumphant march through the streets. Port street on both sides was crowded with people who gave the players a rousing ovation. When Port and King street was reached the crowd had doubled it seemed, and the players boarded the special car awaiting them and started out on the trip to the grounds.

When the grounds were reached, the players found that the grounds were crowded with a cheering crowd of enthusiasts who broke loose with hearty cheers for each player and team. The teams headed by the band made a circle in front of the grand stand and then retired to their respective benches. The color scheme of the hats and dresses of the ladies was one that will never be forgotten by the visitors as well as the town folks. Nearly every color was pictured in the decorations, and the many different flags that the followers of each side carried, made the picture one that will be remembered for a long time. Each car brought more people to the grounds and by the time of the game nearly five thousand people were patiently waiting for the cry "Play Ball." The crowd was not confined to the inside of the grounds, as the neighboring trees and house tops were also used as vantage points.

The Fisher Stars ran out on the field about two thirty to warm up and were greeted with rousing cheers as they took their places. Their warming up made even the most confident Hawaii supporter feel rather uneasy, as the way they threw to bases made the spectators feel that they knew something about the game. Promptly at two forty five the local players went out to get their final warming up, to the hearty cheers of the crowd. The local boys certainly have improved wonderfully, although there is still room for improvement. At five minutes to three the players came off the field, and Jess Woods stepped out to just back of the home plate and introduced Mike Fisher to the crowd. He was given a rousing reception, and calls for speech, speech were heard from all sides. What he said was not heard very distinctly by the thousands present but it had something to do with his Aloha for Hawaii. James Edward Britti was next introduced to the crowd as the greatest man of his weight in the world today. He was followed by "Red Dog" Devereaux, who smiled and said something about the things he had seen, he thought that he had seen everything that was worth seeing here, and said that he was willing to stay here forever if it was necessary. Barney Joy was the next one to receive the rousing cheers from the crowd.

Promptly at three o'clock the All Hawaii team took the field, and the battle was on. Berger and the band were seated over along the right foul line and during the intermission between the innings played lively tunes. His new baseball march was played promptly at four o'clock and many complimentary remarks were heard on all sides. Bert Bowers announced as all the coast umpires do the batteries for the game, and when that little ceremony was over the old familiar cry "Play Ball" was sounded. The following is the game in detail:

Before even a larger crowd than on Saturday the All Star team defeated the local team yesterday afternoon by the score of 5 to 0. The old reliable Barney was in the box for the local team while Sonny Cunha had the position behind the plate. Barney was not hit to any great extent, but he was kind enough to the visitors to allow them to walk nine times. Sonny was not in his old-time form and although he did not allow balls to pass him, his throwing to bases was slow. Only once did he manage to catch a runner and that was when Hildebrand was caught stealing third. Burns, who had the box honors for the Fisher Stars, pitched a wonderful game. His record for strike-outs was eleven, and only three hits were made off him. Five hits were made off Barney, the most serious of the lot being the time that Hildebrand made a home run in the ninth.

Jimmy Williams held the batting honors for the local team, making two out of three hits made. Sonny made the other hit, and in fact every time he was at the bat he made a good hit, but his efforts proved fruitless, as they were fielded.

SPORT NOTES

Only one baseball game was played yesterday morning in the Atkinson League at Kakaako. The Pearl Handies and the clothes cleaners tried their hand at the national game, and the result was 18 to 4 in favor of the guardians of the law. During the game five home runs were made by the Merchant street boys. The second game between the beer makers and the navy team was postponed until a later date as they did not want to miss the big game in the afternoon.

Gill and Waterhouse will fight it out tomorrow afternoon for the tennis championship of the Y. M. C. A. The match will start at four o'clock weather permitting. The two players are very evenly matched with the odds slightly in favor of Waterhouse, and the match should be very interesting for the spectator to watch.

The two baseball games that were played yesterday morning at Aala Park in the Kalaniamakoe League resulted in victories for the Twilights and the Kaalas by large scores. In the first game the Twilights had very little trouble in defeating the Kamanuwas by the score of 13 to 7. The second game the Kaalas shut out the Japanese A. C. Jrs. by the score of 15 to 0. The two pitchers on the losing team were hit at will. The team work of the Twilights was the best that has been seen this year.

HAWAII CASES IN WASHINGTON

ATTORNEY GENERAL HEMENWAY SENDS AND RECEIVES SOME IMPORTANT BRIEFS.

Attorney General Hemenway mailed to Washington by the Korea on Friday the briefs of the Territory in the Lanai land case, which comes up this term of the United States Supreme Court on motion to dismiss. The briefs comprises four pamphlets all prepared in the Attorney General's office, one of which is a motion of Governor Freat to dismiss the writ of error on which the case was carried to the United States court, another the Governor's brief on the motion; then there are a motion and a brief filed in the name of Land Commissioner Pratt.

The Attorney General's office also received on the Mongolia a copy of the transcript of record in the Cotton Bros. case which is pending in the U. S. Supreme Court. This is the suit for $25,000 brought as a result of a lost dredger at Pearl Harbor, loaned to Cotton Bros. by the Territory.

With the record in this case, the records in all five of the U. S. Supreme Court cases in which the Territory is at present interested are at hand. With the exception of the Lanai case, none of them will come up before next spring, as will the Lanai case also, unless the motion to dismiss is allowed. The cases besides the two just mentioned are the murder case of Morita Keizo, the Territory's suit against the Inter-Island S. N. Co. as garnishee in the matter of attachments of seamen's

HONOLULU BUYING SEATTLE PRODUCE

HAWAIIANS IN THE SOUND MARKET FOR APPLES, POTATOES AND ONIONS.

SEATTLE, Nov. 9.—This afternoon C. W. Chamberlain & Co. shipped 600 sacks of Eastern Washington potatoes, 800 boxes of apples and several hundred sacks of onions to Honolulu. The Honolulu trade, which assumed quite large proportions last winter, is now beginning again. It is reported that the islands will need much produce this winter, and commission men believe that large quantities of apples, especially, will be sold there this winter.

This trade is a comparatively new thing for Seattle commission men, as in the past most of the business has been done in San Francisco. The establishment of a direct line of steamships and the ability to furnish excellent produce at reasonable prices have diverted a large portion of the trade to the Northwest.

"CARTER PINCHED"

Under the above heading the Maui News prints the following: "A complaint was recently sent to county board of supervisors that persons were hunting on the island of Molokai without a license and when the police approached the offenders they would tell the police that they were the possessors of licenses but had failed to bring the same with them. The Deputy Sheriff there asked for instructions as to what he should do in such cases. The matter was referred to the county attorney who advised that in all such cases arrests be made and parties required to prove that they held a license or be fined for violating the law. "On the fifteenth instant 2. Paul a police officer rounded up Ex-Governor George R. Carter, A. F. Judd, W. Kent, S. G. Wilder, R. Ivers, George Chase, George Cushing, C. A. Hartwell and James Munro and requested that they produce their licenses pay to him the required fee or accompany him. "The gentlemen seemed to know just what was in store for them in case they did not accept his first or second offer and promptly paid five dollars each. They all are now the possessors of licenses and may hunt until next July without being molested."

By a strenuous use of his flat the prize fighter manages to get his hand in.
